COMPULSORY PURCHASE: London City Airport

London City Airport expansion will bring more daily misery to residents, inquiry told

AN INQUIRY has been strongly urged to reject the Compulsory Purchase Orders (CPOs) that would allow the expansion of London City Airport.

The appeal has been made by east London councils to protect residents from an increase in noise and air pollution.

Waltham Forest Council's deputy leader and cabinet member for environment, Cllr Clyde Loakes, gave evidence to the inquiry on Tuesday on behalf of residents.

He said: "Our residents' quality of life is already under huge pressure from the impact of aircraft noise. Our location in north east London means that we are buffered by Heathrow Gatwick, Stansted and London City airports and the borough has now become the third most overflown borough in London after Hounslow and Richmond, by stealth with little consultation and engagement with its residents."

CPOs, which are the subject of the inquiry, will result in the acquisition of nearly 12,000 square metres of public land and dock water by London City Airport.

It will allow new airport facilities to increase the number of flights using the airport by 50 per cent to 111,000 per year.

"This will bring yet more daily misery to residents," said Cllr Loakes.

Former Mayor of London, Boris Johnson, threw out the plans for expansion in March 2015, but City Airport appealed to the Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government, Greg Clark, in an effort to preserve its business plan for increasing the number of take-offs and landings from the airport.

Last autumn Waltham Forest Council conducted a survey of residents on the impact that aircraft noise had on their daily lives.

More than 80 per cent of responders said they were already disturbed by current levels of aircraft noise, 78 per cent said that their hearing or listening was disturbed, and 73 per cent said their sleep was disturbed.

Cllr Loakes added: "We do not believe that London City Airport have been good neighbours to the residents of Waltham Forest, and we were extremely disappointed that they chose to appeal the decision on airport expansion. They have also not kept local communities properly informed about the CPO process, having not included the need for CPOs in their original planning application. I urged the Inquiry to

Is that a hospital emergency? we'll be the judge of that

QUEEN'S Hospital in Romford carried out a trial on Monday that saw patients refused access if staff deemed they did not need emergency care.

The trial sees the department run in the same way as it was during the most recent junior doctors strike.

Akin Idowu, an emergency department consultant at Barking, Havering and Redbridge University Hospitals NHS Trust (BHRUT), which runs Queen's, said: "This is the way it should operate all the time - it allows us to care for those most in need."

"Many people come to our EDs when they do not require emergency care. If they went to the right place in the community, it would be much more convenient for them."

On the trial, patients were assessed on arrival at the department by a consultant and if they did not require emergency care, they were redirected to the most appropriate primary care services in the community. BHRUT said the new system meant pharmacies, GP surgeries and walk-in centres could give advice and treat the minor ailments which took up too much of ED resources.

Information on getting the appropriate care service is available at bhrhospitals.nhs.uk.

See the greatest of all romantic ballets

GISELLE – a tale of innocence, love, betrayal and madness – will be at Towngate Theatre, Basildon, this month and we have FIVE pairs of tickets to give away to see it.

The ultimate romantic ballet, with music by one of the 19th century's best composers, Adolphe Adam, and choreography by the late Nicholas Beriosoff, is brought to the stage by the Vienna Festival Ballet during a national tour.

The tour includes performances at Towngate Theatre, on Tuesday, May 31, and Wednesday, June 1.

Giselle, a peasant girl, falls in love with Count Albrecht, who has told her he is a villain named Loys.

But her discovery of his true identity has devastating consequences.

The traditional staging of this 1841 masterpiece moves from the sunny optimism of Giselle's idyllic village life to an ethereal world of mystery and menace.

With its heart-breaking story and exquisite choreography, Giselle is the perfect way to discover classical ballet.

CLASSIC: Giselle is coming to Basildon

One of the main aims of Vienna Festival Ballet is to bring classical ballet to the public nationwide, at affordable prices, developing and encouraging new audiences to appreciate and understand the popularity of this art form.

The company tours eight months a year, presenting up to 200 performances mainly in the UK, but also in Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Belgium, Holland, Ireland and France.

To win one of five pairs of tickets to see this masterpiece at Towngate Theatre, at 7.30pm on Wednesday, June 1, answer the following question.

reject the CPOs requested by the airport because if the development itself is unacceptable, the transfer of land and water belonging to all Londoners that is needed for the development should also be refused.

"Our residents have made it clear they do not want the airport to be expanded and I hope the inquiry will listen and refuse this CPO land grab, which will lead to a further avalanche of disastrous implications on the quality of life of residents of Waltham Forest."

London City Airport spokesperson said the expansion would be beneficial for the area and create work.

He said: "Expansion at London City Airport will create more than 2,000 new jobs and attract visitors and investment for the local economy. The airport needs to acquire an area of land within King George V Dock, which is under water, in order to build new infrastructure. Legal consultation requirements were fulfilled, as they were with the wider planning application. The new Mayor of London has withdrawn the GLA's objection to the airport acquiring the land."

"The airport takes its responsibility to its neighbours very seriously – it closes at night and for 24 hours at weekends, it has helped hundreds of local people into work, spent £2.7m on education, employment and community investment initiatives since 2009, and worked with thousands of school students through educational tours and careers days. We will continue to put local residents at the heart of what we do and ensure London City Airport continues to benefit our communities."

The enquiry continues.

Barry takes saintly role

SPORTING events promoter Barry Hearn has agreed to become a patron of Saint Francis Hospice.

The founder and chairman of Matchroom Sport has a personal connection with the hospice as his mother-in-law was cared for by the charity in 2005.

The hospice in Havering-atte-Bower provides care and support to people with a life-limiting illness, as well as their carers and family members.

Mr Hearn said the appointment was "an honour".

"I am a strong believer that charity begins at home – and what better way is there than to support a charity where you can really see the difference your support makes to local people," he said.

The Brentwood-based businessman has already helped attract many supporters to the charity, and he works closely with the fundraising team to promote exclusive events such as golf days at Thorndon Park and Abridge golf clubs.

There have also been clay pigeon shooting days at Down Hall Country House.

Mr Hearn is responsible for the development of the hospice's Business Alliance Group, which offers businesses networking opportunities while fundraising for the hospice at the same time.

Pam Court, chief executive of the hospice, said she was thrilled that Mr Hearn had agreed to take on the new role. "Barry Hearn has been a committed supporter of the hospice for many years, donating his time, creating awareness and raising £300,000 in the process," she said.

Leyton driver murdered in early morning shoot-out

DETECTIVES are appealing for witnesses and information following the fatal shooting of a man in Leyton.

On Saturday May 14, police were called shortly after 3.15am to reports of shots heard and a collision near the junction of Melbourne Road and Capworth Street. Officers attended and found a 24 year-old man with a gunshot wound.

The London Ambulance Service was called but he was pronounced dead at the scene a short time later.

Whilst officers believe they know who the man is, and next of kin have been informed, formal identification and a post-mortem examination have yet to take place.

Police believe the victim was driving a car when shots were fired at it. He reversed his car in an attempt to get away but collided with a parked vehicle.

DCI Andrew Packer, leading the investigation, said: "I would like to hear from anyone with information that could help this investigation."

Two men, aged 19 and 31, were arrested but later released on bail pending further enquiries.

Anyone with information should call the incident room on 020 8345 3865, Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111 or visit crimestoppers-uk.org.

Little princesses and pirates for the day

CHILDREN dressed up as pirates and princesses as part of a special day at a school in Harold Hill. Nursery and reception pupils at Broadford Primary School took part in pirates and princesses day, with staff joining in. The fun follows work that the children have been doing in class, which included drawing maps and designing ships. Bianca Taylor, early years foundation stage leader, said: "Our themed pirates and princesses day was a wonderful way to celebrate the learning that the pupils have been doing in their topic work. "They really made a special effort with their costumes and props." Yellow Advertiser photographer Martin Dalton went down to the school and took these photographs.

Golf club chips in to hospice fund

FRIENDS and family of a Hornchurch man who was a member of a golf club in Dagenham have raised £2,200 for the hospice that cared for him.

Martin Griggs was looked after by the "hospice at home" team from Saint Francis Hospice before his death earlier this year at the age of 54. Martin was a member of Crowlands Heath Golf Club since its launch in 1999.

He had also worked there as a chef.

Martin's brother Steve is a former club captain.

Daniel Wilkinson, the club manager, said: "Martin would have a view on most things – he was a very passionate man. We all miss him as he was such a big personality."

The club's current captain Dave Peck played golf with Martin and helped to organise a fundraising golf day on Easter Saturday.

Tee fees were donated, as were proceeds from a raffle and money raised for a Beat the Pro event.

Mike Allen, corporate partnerships manager at the hospice, said: "We are so grateful to everyone at Crowlands Heath Golf Club for presenting us with these funds, and for planning a further golf day in August."

Mr Allen said the money would go towards the "hospice at home" initiative.

COASTAL DEFENCE: Jaywick Martello Tower, which is a community heritage hub staging exhibitions, talks and events

Tower of strength

BUILT originally as a Napoleonic fort, Jaywick Martello Tower near Clacton now acts as a central hub for the community and visitors.

The tower was originally built in 1809. It was one of 29 Martello towers situated on the east coast of England, which were constructed to defend the country against the threat of invasion by Napoleon Bonaparte and his French armies.

The bricks for the tower were made at Grays using London clay and transported to each site by barge.

The brick walls of the Martello tower are two to three metres thick (between eight and 12ft) and about 10 metres (40ft) high – the whole tower is constructed with around 750,000 bricks.

On the roof were three cannons, a 24-pounder facing out to sea and two smaller Howitzers at each side.

You can still see the original pivots for the cannon on the roof.

The name Martello is derived from a similar military sea defence tower at Mortella Point on the island of Corsica, near Italy, which the British Navy captured with difficulty after two days of fighting in 1794.

The British were so impressed with the strength of the tower that before they left Corsica they took its measurements, which provided the pattern for Martello towers in Britain and elsewhere.

Today Jaywick Martello Tower holds regular arts and heritage exhibitions, talks and events.

Volunteer force turns tide against river louts

MISSION: RSPB Rainham foreshore clean-up

STAFF and volunteers at Rainham Marshes nature reserve are facing up to the polluters of the River Thames and have started to clear a shocking amount of rubbish.

Some 50 public-spirited souls from Tideway, a corporate member of the RSPB, joined Rainham Marshes, where manager Andrew Gouldstone said: "It's our role to safeguard nature and excite people about it – so it's sad to see how badly some people treat our environment by tossing rubbish into the Thames.

"We've recovered all manner of things – including sports equipment, shoes, offerings to the gods and more plastic than you'll find in a recycling centre."

Mr Gouldstone said he was

"extremely grateful" to Tideway and Veolia, which provided the skips.

Phil Stride, Tideway's external affairs director, said: "This work will deliver benefits for all river users, including the wildlife. We are happy to support the RSPB's work to give nature a home by protecting birds and wildlife."

Keith McGurk, regional director for Veolia, said: "This is a great joint initiative which has a positive effect on the important biodiversity of Rainham Marshes."

He added that everyone must consider how they dispose of waste and ensure that it is done responsibly through recycling or by putting it in the appropriate waste receptacle.

Balance family budget with bargain Insignia

By Jon Smith

THE Vauxhall Insignia has been around for eight years now, but continuous development and a facelift in 2013 have kept it fresh and fighting – and it remains seriously good family value.

One of best models to go for from the range is the Sports Tourer SRI Nav with new “whisper” diesel 1.6-litre engine, offering the combined increased practicality of an estate with miserly economy.

True to its nickname the latest engine is much quieter than older Vauxhall diesels.

In fact, this ecoFLEX unit has a degree of smoothness and refinement that puts it at the helm of the current crop of oilburners.

With a capacity of 1,598cc you tend to question whether the task of hauling a sizeable five-seater estate is too great.

But with a generous 236lb/ft of torque the Vauxhall has a big heart. It's a responsive unit that reacts quickly to the throttle so long as revs are kept flowing above the 2,000rpm mark and real-life driving sees averages of 45-48mpg.

Running costs are reasonable with emissions of 114g/km and an official government average of 65.7mpg.

Performance is brisk rather than rapid with 62mph coming up in 11.4 seconds and a maximum of 124mph, and the SRI is fitted with lowered and beefed up sports suspensions.

Cornering and ride quality are possibly its weakest areas – nothing unsafe or shocking – but there's a lack of fluency in the ride and no real incentive to push hard through corners because of a lack of general athleticism.

Of more interest, though, to most people interested in this sector will be load space.

Despite quite a high load deck, the Insignia can swallow up 540 litres of cargo with rear seats in place and up to 1,530 litres when they are folded down (these split 60-40).

These stats are generous enough, but trail rivals such as the VW Passat and Ford Mondeo slightly, and are a longer way behind market leader, Skoda Superb, which absorbs more than 2,000 litres.

Under the boot floor, there's a small shallow area where you can hide away valuables.

The cabin uses good quality materials and has a sensible, easy-to-operate design.

A cleaner console incorporating standard sat nav is both easier to read and smarter.

The central oddment box is on the small size, but there are generous door pockets and a good-sized glove box.

The steering wheel is adjustable for both height and reach, and the driver's seat has multiple adjustments, but I wasn't able to set it quite high enough for my ideal position.

Both driver's and passenger's seat squabs are made to extend.

Those in the rear have decent head and legroom and it is quite possible to seat three abreast if required.

When just two are on board, use can be made of a central armrest which includes two cup holders.

This car was fitted with optional 19-inch alloys, which look great but probably impair the ride standard a tad.

It also had front and rear parking sensors at £450.

With a basic price tag of £23,724, the SRI Nav 1.6 CDTI is undoubtedly a real bargain for a family driver with an eye on the budget.

EUROPEAN FATE IN THE BALANCE

West Ham United

Stoke City 2 West Ham United 1
Brian Jeeves reporting from the Britannia Stadium

MAME DIOUF'S late header sent West Ham United spinning to defeat and has left their European aspirations hanging by a thread.

West Ham arrived in the Potteries knowing three points would ensure they moved into the Olympic Stadium with a Europa League berth next season.

Manager Slaven Bilic made one change to the team that beat Manchester United in the Boleyn Ground's farewell match last Tuesday, with James Tomkins coming in for the injured Dimitri Payet.

Stoke were keen to finish the campaign with a flourish and victory would give them their highest Premier League points tally and a top ten finish.

Early exchanges were scruffy, but it was West Ham, with more at stake, who made a lightning start.

Cheikh Kouyate burst in from the right and his centre was swept to safety. But from the resulting flag-kick the Hammers grabbed the lead.

Michail Antonio turned on the proverbial sixpence before firing beyond Potters goalkeeper Shay Given and defender Giannelli Imbula on the line.

The goal buoyed the visitors who were already in control. Antonio thundered over while Diafra Sakho hit the side netting as West Ham looked to double their money.

Stoke's anxious start got through to the home crowd who were unusually subdued.

Kouyate's snap shot was deflected behind as the Hammers continued to ask the sterner questions.

Bojan eventually offered some form of response from the hosts, driving the wrong side of an upright after crafting an opening from the left.

West Ham continued to dominate after the break. Sakho should have put the game out of Stoke's reach, but fired directly at Given after Antonio's cross picked him out.

Soon the Hammers were made to pay for their wastefulness. Potters record signing Imbula snatched possession and drilled a crisp low drive past Darren Randolph.

Now it was West Ham on the backfoot, with Bojan and Imbula testing the visitors' resolve with a series of forward forays.

Imbula drove a decent opportunity into Randolph's midriff, but Hammers substitute Enner Valencia should have done better, heading over after Mark Noble's diagonal ball picked him out, while Emmanuel Emenike and Antonio were both denied by some desperate defending after a goalmouth melee.

An audacious effort from Charlie Adam almost caught out a frantically backpedaling Randolph as Stoke looked to snatch the points late in the day.

But Stoke grabbed the win that had earlier looked unlikely when Diouf rose unmarked to head Adam's corner beyond Randolph.

Hammers keeper Randolph joined the attack as West Ham tried to save the game but the Irish stopper headed Lanzini's free-kick off-target.

This was a disappointing end to a fantastic campaign for the Hammers who now need Manchester United to beat Crystal Palace in Saturday's FA Cup Final to secure a Europa

MIXED EMOTIONS: Slaven Bilic League place.

After the game Bilic said: "I'm gutted. I'd like to congratulate Stoke because they took their chances.

"One part of me is very disappointed, angry, whatever, the other half is happy after the way we played because it was different class.

"After we scored the goal, until the end of the first half, we should have been more than one goal up.

"I said to the guys at half-time, if it was basketball, we would be 15 or 20 points ahead.

"But it's football, and the start of the second half we had a massive chance through Sakho but Shay Given made a great save.

"Then they equalised, after that there were three or four chances from corners. Then like so many times in football, you concede a goal. It was just one of those days that makes you really frustrated."

Stoke chief Mark Hughes said: "It's been difficult this year. I think of all the seasons that we've managed ninth, this is the most satisfying because it was more difficult this year.

"We put ourselves in a fantastic position six or seven games ago and thought we could really kick on. But then we were clearly hurt with losing Jack [Buckland].

"There was a little bit of disruption and we lost a little bit of confidence. We struggled with a little bit of form.

He added: "I thought we started brightly enough. I thought the goal was a little bit against the run of play but then we got a little bit anxious.

"The crowd got a little bit more direct, but we are not set up to do that.

"I had to remind them at half-time just to play our stuff, get on the ball, be strong and brave in possession.

"I thought that's exactly what we did in the second half."

West Ham are next scheduled in action on Sunday, August 7, when they open their new stadium with a friendly against Italian champions Juventus at 1pm.

Non-league round-up

Cowley quits for Lincoln post

BRAINTREE Town manager Danny Cowley has quit the north Essex outfit to link up with fellow National Leaguers Lincoln City.

Cowley, his brother and assistant manager Nicky, have signed a deal to take the reins at Sincil Bank, after guiding the Iron to a third place finish, before being beaten by play-off winners Grimsby Town.

Iron's chairman Lee Harding told the club's website: "Yes, it's a shame for us but, first of all, I would like to thank both Danny and Nicky for their efforts throughout their year at our club.

"What they have achieved with the players has been remarkable. But it seems the offer of a £500,000 playing budget and full-time status has proved to be too good for them to turn down.

"I think it is an incredibly brave decision on their parts, but I really do hope it works out for them – they are good people.

"Our thoughts now to turn to closer to home and we now seek applicants for the management role at the Avanti Stadium. The past 12 months have proved that part-time clubs and, in particular, Braintree Town can compete in this division. "The windfall we have received from the play-offs will allow us to further improve both our playing budget and playing surface over the coming months and I now look forward to selecting the next manager of the club to continue our push towards our ultimate ambition."

Braintree play a series of home pre-season matches ahead of the 2016/17 campaign on Saturday, July 16 v Southend United; Tuesday, July 19 v Gillingham and Saturday, July 30 v Cambridge United.

Former Southend United midfielder Kevin Maher has ruled himself out of the manager's job at National League South club Chelmsford City.

Maher was caretaker boss at the Melbourne Stadium, steering the Claret's clear of relegation after taking over from Mark Hawkes.

Canvey Island striker Martin Tuohy has been selected in the Ryman Premier League team of the year after hitting 24 goals. He was joined by East Thurrock United's evergreen frontman Sam Higgins, who played his part in helping the Rock to promotion to the National League South after a play-off victory over Dulwich Hamlet.

Essex Senior League club Ilford have scheduled warm-up matches on Tuesday, June 28 v Debden Sports (a); Saturday, July 2 v Rayleigh Town (a); Saturday, July 9 v Aveley (at Robert Clack School, Dagenham); Tuesday, July 12 v Tilbury (at Robert Clack School, Dagenham); Tuesday July 19 v Colney Heath (a); Saturday, July 23 v White Ensign (a); Tuesday, July 26 v Kelvedon Hatch (at Robert Clack School, Dagenham); Saturday July 30 v Harold Hill (a) and Tuesday, August 2 v Frenford Senior (venue tbc).

Ilford boss Allan Fenn said: "I am also hoping to add to my excellent group of coaches. It is all going great at the club at the moment."

Fellow Essex Senior Leaguers, Clapton, will face Cockfosters on Saturday, July 16, Welwyn Garden City on July 23, Coldicote on July 30 and White Ensign on Tuesday, August 2.

Prokit UK Essex Olympian League club White Ensign have announced a game with Great Bad-dow (July 30) alongside those listed above.

In the final round of games in the Pro Kit UK Essex Olympian League, Harold Wood Athletic were resounding 6-0 Premier Division winners over Buckhurst Hill. Kelvedon Hatch beat Han-nakins Farm 1-0, and Bishop's Stortford Swifts won at Rayleigh Town by the odd goal in three.

In EOL Division Three, Sungate were comfortable 4-1 winners at Leytonstone United.

Bannister stays upbeat after two second places

Motor racing

THE weekend proved to be a bittersweet story for Basildon racer Luke Bannister.

The 26-year-old competed in the Fiesta Championship at Rockingham, Northamptonshire, hoping to follow on from his double win success at Silverstone a few weeks ago.

Starting on pole position in class, a tricky first race and a few errors lost Bannister crucial lap time and he had to settle for second place at the chequered flag.

Trying to put his misfortune behind him, Bannister pushed a little too hard in the second race later in the day and a spin put him out of contention for the win, but he came home to score another second place finish.

Despite his misfortunes on the track, Bannister still scored a respectful tally of points which still sees him lead the class B championship.

He admitted he was disappointed not to get another win.

RISING STAR: Luke Bannister in action in his Fiesta

He said: "It was a tricky weekend and I'm frustrated not to secure at least one win after a great weekend at Silverstone.

"Saying that, two second places is still great for the championship and I'm now already looking forward to the next round at Snetterton."

To find out more about sponsoring Bannister in his quest to win the class B championship in his debut year, email LB_Racing20@hotmail.com.
